

For future generations and for the freedom of thought, I urge the FCC not to rush in this decision. I believe that there should be more regulation of media and I believe the majority of citizens in the United States would agree. Let this be an issue that the citizens decide. Let America continue to be a Democracy.